

YICHEN SHEN

I am a Los Angeles-based graphic designer who thrives on crafting designs rooted in intriguing concepts. My focus lies in conveying messages effectively while delivering visually delightful experiences. I possess a keen sensitivity to branding, typography, color, layouts, and overall cohesiveness.

6 years of graphic design experience and 2 years of working experience. Worked for Adobe and Otis Design Lab. I did many branding and visual identity projects in the past. I am a person who is full of curiosity and always ready to learn more!
